About Lesley University

Lesley University—located in Cambridge, Massachusetts, one of the most dynamic learning environments in the country—uniquely focuses on the human arts, with programs that live at the intersection of education, counseling, and the visual arts.

Lesley students study across four schools and colleges—a professionally focused liberal arts college, an independent college of art and design, a graduate school of education, and a graduate school of social sciences—as well as in the Threshold Program, a residential program for students with a variety of learning differences.

We educate the people—the teachers, counselors, therapists, social workers, artists, policy makers, writers, and business leaders—who practice these arts, and act as catalysts for a more connected and just world.

2022 Honorary Degree Recipient Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

Shelly C. Lowe is a citizen of the Navajo Nation and grew up on the Navajo Reservation in Ganado, Arizona. From 2015 to 2021, she served as a member of the National Council on the Humanities, the 26-member advisory body to the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), an appointment she received from President Obama. President Biden nominated Shelly Lowe to serve as the first Native American Chair of the National Endowment for the Humanities, and she was confirmed by the U.S. Senate in February 2022. Until her appointment as NEH chair, Lowe served as Executive Director of the Harvard University Native American Program. Prior to that, she was Assistant Dean in the Yale College Dean's Office and Director of the Native American Cultural Center at Yale University. She also spent six years as the Graduate Education Program Facilitator for the American Indian Studies Programs at the University of Arizona.

Lowe has served in a variety of leadership roles nationally, most recently as a member of the University of Arizona Alumni Association Governing Board and of the Challenge Leadership Group for the MIT Solve Indigenous Communities Fellowship. She has served on the board of the National Indian Education Association and as a trustee on the board for the National Museum of the American Indian.

Lowe holds a Bachelor of Arts in Sociology, a Master of Arts in American Indian Studies, and has completed doctoral coursework in Higher Education from the University of Arizona. She is a Cambridge resident and the mother of a 2019 Lesley graduate.

She will speak at the afternoon ceremony for graduates of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the College of Art and Design and students completing the Threshold Program.

2022 Honorary Degree Recipient

Honorary Doctor of Fine Arts

Olivia “Libby” Parker is an internationally recognized photographer with a deep connection to Lesley University. A Wellesley College graduate and art history major, she began her career in the visual arts as a painter and later started photographing ephemeral constructions. Her work is in major private, corporate, and museum collections, including the Art Institute of Chicago, MoMA, Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and The Peabody Essex Museum. Parker has had residencies at numerous renowned institutions, including Dartmouth College, MacDowell, the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, and Cassilhaus. There are four monographs of Parker’s work. The most recent is Order of Imagination, published in 2019 by The Peabody Essex Museum (PEM) and The University of Washington Press in conjunction with a major retrospective exhibit at PEM that year. “Vanishing in Plain Sight,” images related to her husband John O. Parker’s experience with Alzheimer’s Disease, was exhibited at Lesley’s Lunder Arts Center in the spring of 2019. Parker has received the Wellesley Alumnae Achievement Award, and in November 2019 she was inducted into the International Photography Hall of Fame.

A member of the Friends of Lesley, Parker is a former Overseer of the Art Institute of Boston (AIB), which was since renamed the Lesley University College of Art and Design. Her late husband chaired Lesley’s Board of Trustees and was instrumental in AIB’s merger with Lesley. Lesley named the John O. and Olivia Parker Gallery in their honor in Lesley’s University Hall Atrium. Parker’s late brother Charles Hood also served on the Lesley University Board of Trustees.

She will receive her honorary degree during the afternoon ceremony for graduates of the College of Art and Design and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and students completing the Threshold Program.

2022 Honorary Degree Recipient

Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

Geeta Pradhan, President of the Cambridge Community Foundation, draws on her deep experience in philanthropy, urban planning, and economic development to support the wellbeing of Cambridge and those who depend on our city. She transformed a 105-year-old local grantmaking organization from a charity to a changemaker, supporting shared prosperity, social equity, and cultural richness through grantmaking, civic leadership, and philanthropic partnerships. Today, the Foundation supports more than 150 local nonprofits annually, conducts research and initiates cross-city conversations, and serves as a collaborative philanthropic partner to donors, businesses, nonprofits, universities, and engaged citizens, helping to address community needs.

Ms. Pradhan has been a close collaborator of the Greater Boston nonprofit sector for more than 30 years. She co-authored two reports on the financial health of the Massachusetts nonprofit sector, organized the creation of the Massachusetts Nonprofit Network, an organization that supports the nonprofit ecosystem statewide, and facilitated the founding of the Institute of Nonprofit Practice, which supports the development of promising social impact leaders. She serves on several public sector task forces and committees, including the City of Cambridge's Youth & Family Policy Council and Community Benefits Advisory Committee. She also serves on the boards of the Kendall Square Association, Central Square Business Improvement District, Institute for Nonprofit Practice National Advisory Board, and the local advisory board of Up Together (formerly Family Independence Initiative). Ms. Pradhan previously worked for The Boston Foundation as the Associate Vice President for Programs, where she oversaw grantmaking and community impact, led the multi-neighborhood Fairmount Corridor effort focused on equity and opportunity, and co-founded the Boston Indicators Project to drive scaled social change. She also worked for the City of Boston serving as Director of Sustainable Boston and Assistant Director for Neighborhood Development. A trained artist, she earned a Bachelor of Architecture in India, and holds a Master's in Urban Design from the Harvard Graduate School of Design.

She will speak at the morning ceremony for students earning degrees from the Graduate School of Education and the Graduate School of Arts and Social Sciences.

Unofficial List of Graduates: The names that appear in this printed program were complete and accurate as of April 21, 2022. The program does not reflect any changes to the list after that date.

Award of Honors: Because of publication deadlines, the honors listed in this program are based on students' cumulative grade point averages of all completed coursework as of April 21, 2022, and may not include the names of those who earn honors once final grades are posted to students' official academic records. Final determination of Latin Honors are certified by the Registrar's Office as accurate and official, based on the students' final cumulative grade point average and may differ from what is listed in this program.

Academic Regalia

The academic attire worn at Commencement has its origins in the Middle Ages. The purpose of academic regalia is to display the academic and scholarly achievements of the wearer. From the cap, gown, and academic hood it is possible to distinguish the institution from which the wearer graduated, the field of learning in which his or her degree was earned, and the level of degree.

Academic hoods are the visual representation of scholastic degrees. Academic hoods are lined with the official color of the college or university conferring the degree, and the velvet detail represents the learning discipline. All Lesley University academic hoods are green and gold and the following colors represent each discipline:

Arts: White

Education: Light Blue

Fine Arts: Brown

Science: Golden Yellow

The honorary academic hoods are white for Doctor of Humane Letters and brown for Doctor of Fine Arts.

The mortarboard hats and soft velvet tams are black. Prior to receiving the degree, the tassel is worn on the right. The graduates ceremonially turn the tassel to the left at the end of the Commencement ceremony.

Gowns are normally black, and the level of the degree is indicated by the cut of the gown. Colored doctoral gowns represent the school colors of the college or university that awarded the doctoral degree. The green gowns of the president, trustees, and honorary degree recipients represent the Lesley University colors. The president wears the Lesley University presidential medallion.

Cords worn by graduates of the College of Art and Design and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences indicate honors. Summa Cum Laude cords are gold, Magna Cum Laude cords are gold and white, and Cum Laude cords are white.

This is your moment.

As you graduate today, we encourage you to take time to reflect on your accomplishments and look forward to the next chapter in your life as you prepare to enjoy the next adventure. You made things happen, and now you are taking your Lesley education into the world to enhance lives through a powerful combination of knowledge, skill, innovative thinking, empathy, and passion.

We welcome you into a community of people who have walked where you walk, and who now bring fresh ideas and new possibilities into their work and the lives of others. You are a part of this group of teachers, artists, healers, leaders, and visionaries, over 90,000 alumni who found their calling at Lesley University. You have been shaped by Lesley; now you can shape the future as a Lesley alum!

Whether you join us on the Alumni Council, serve on an Alumni Committee, become a mentor to prospective students, seek guidance from the Career Resource Center, provide career connections and guidance to future alumni, or attend university leadership lectures, exhibits, and events, we encourage you to keep in touch with your Lesley family and support the development and success of future Lesley students.

Congratulations! We look forward to staying in touch, and hearing about the places your Lesley education takes you.
